

Community Conversations with Central Texans to Explore Pathways to Prosperity: What is Needed for a Successful Career?

Join us for vital community conversations to identify ways our students can overcome obstacles and create more opportunities for education and career success.

Young adults without some type of postsecondary credential only have a 12% chance of earning enough money to provide the salary that supports an acceptable standard of living. Now is the time to tackle this issue for the younger generations in our communities.

Why this matters: By 2020, more than two-thirds of jobs and almost all living-wage jobs will require some kind of workforce certification, credential or degree. Are the students of Central Texas prepared?

Who should attend: Parents; high school and college students; secondary educators; concerned neighbors; secondary and postsecondary faculty, staff and administration; local government and businesses; organizations; and other stakeholders. Each event will offer resources, information, facilitated conversations, a meal, supervised activities for children and Spanish-English interpreters.
